

International Studies of Economics

International Studies of Economics (ISE) is a general interest OA journal in economics published by Wiley on behalf of the Institute for Advanced Research, Shanghai University of Finance and Economics. It was previously published by Higher Education Press under the title Frontiers of Economics in China, which was ranked as one of “The Highest International Impact Academic Journals of China” in 2016, 2019, 2020 and 2021.

The ISE welcomes submissions of theoretical and empirical papers from all fields of economics, particularly those with an emphasis on the Chinese economy and other emerging, developing or transition economies. While the journal is primarily interested in original research papers, it also welcomes submissions of opinion articles, literature surveys, and book reviews.

Words from Editors

“The new partnership with Wiley, the world’s second largest publisher, is an important milestone in our journey to become the most distinguished economics journal based in China. Leveraging Wiley’s experience and resources as a global leader in research and education, this partnership will significantly enhance the publication quality as well as the visibility and reputation of the journal. Furthermore, the journal’s new title, International Studies of Economics, reflects more accurately its position as a general interest journal aimed at a global audience. This will help attract more manuscripts on a broader range of topics, further enhancing the journal’s publication quality. In our endeavor to build a leading economics journal, we look forward to your continued support.”
