

DPC SOFTWARE GMBH

Official distributor

Stata: Germany, Netherlands, Austria, Czech Republic and Hungary

StatGraphics: Germany

DPC Software GmbH is your specialized partner for the distribution of market-leading software products, with a particular focus on Stata.

Since 1994, we have proudly served as the official distributor of Stata in Germany, the Netherlands, Austria, the Czech Republic, and Hungary.

Our commitment extends beyond sales to actively promoting statistical science: we regularly organize conferences, information events on statistical topics, and offer targeted training courses.

Stata is a comprehensive statistical software package used for research and development. Stata offers a wide range of high quality statistical methods.

As the official Stata distributor for Germany and other European countries, we provide tailored training and consulting services to help you maximize the effective use of Stata.
